3 Captured Marines Slain By Terrorists

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong struck today in and around Saigon, within the shadow of the big U.S. Marine base at Da Nang and near the Cambodian frontier. The stepped-up demonstration of their prowess came on the seventh day of the moratorium in the U.S. air war against the Communist North.

New evidence of Communist terror tactics was seen in the disclosure by a U.S. military spokesman that three captured U.S. Marines and eight South Vietnamese soldiers had been murdered after their capture in Quang Ngai Province on Dec. 16. The bodies were found in shallow graves and appeared to have been shot repeatedly in the head at close range.

The spokesman attributed the slayings to the 18th North Vietnamese Regiment in the area and said one of the victims — whose nationality was not disclosed — had been struck in the head with a sharp instrument.

In Saigon, a Vietnamese journalist whose pro-American articles brought him threats from the Viet Cong was shot to death this afternoon as he rode home by bicycle. Police said the newsman, Tu Chong, 35, of the daily newspaper Chinh Luan, was the first Saigon newspaperman the Communists had assassinated. The killer escaped.

Before dawn 500 Viet Cong drove a South Vietnamese militia company from a government stronghold only 4 miles from the outer defenses of the big Marine base at Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon. It was the third time in 10 weeks that the Communists had overrun Hill 60.

Assessment Hike On Cars 'Unchanged'

State Tax Panel Plan Not Viewed As An 'Order'

Pettis County assessor Jerry Trotter spoke out Thursday in opposition to a recent State Tax Commission order that motor vehicles be assessed at 40 per cent of market value.

And Trotter added his office will not comply with the directive when deputies begin their 1966 assessments next Monday, Jan. 3. The county's rate of assessment will remain at its present level of approximately 30 per cent of market value, he said.

Assessing normally is the function of local assessors, although the State Tax Commission has the authority to equalize assessments among various counties.

Announcement of the new rate was made at a meeting Dec. 3 in Kansas City between the commission and the Missouri Association of County Assessors. Trotter and two deputies in his office attended the session.

But there is some question as to whether the commission issued a formal order setting the 40 per cent figure on motor vehicles. Trotter says it was not a direct order.

"The way it was put to us in Kansas City was the commission made us think that if we didn't do it they would make the raise," the assessor said. "It was just a threat and not a direct order."

"But now I understand that the commission has written letters to be in the hands of county assessors by January 1 making this a direct order."

No such written order has been received here as yet, however.

Trotter charged that the commission's move to up motor vehicle assessments is an attempt to "run" a local assessor's office and he questioned the 40 per cent figure when real

A Soldier Goes Home

By TOM TIEDE

QUI NHAN, Viet Nam—(NEA)—Four men crouched on the runway waiting for transportation . . . five really, but one of them was dead now.

They had placed the fifth in a green plastic bag, as they do all men killed in combat. The sack sagged over the outline of a thin man whose hands were carefully crossed over his stomach.

Tiede

"Wonder how he got it," a boy mumbled.

"What's the difference?"

"Just wondered."

"A grenade maybe," a sergeant said.

"Wonder how old he was," the boy stammered.

"What's the difference?"

"I . . . I just wondered, that's all."

The bag had two hand holes on each end. It was over seven feet long and featureless except for the word "Head" stenciled forward on one side and underneath it the name of the manufacturer.

The thick zipper which ran the container's length was fastened but blood trickled out.

"I feel ashamed somehow," a guy said.

"Me, too."

"I always feel small around dead people."

"Everybody does."

"I remember one time," the noncom sighed, "I was in an aid tent with a blister on my heel. That afternoon they dragged in five guys who had gotten caught in machine gun fire. And there I was with a lousy blister."

The men shook their heads. Somebody crushed out a cigarette. The boy bit his lip. The dead soldier was enroute to Saigon where he would be cleansed, mended, embalmed, dressed in a new uniform and placed on a jet for San Francisco and then home.

Home. How long the dream . . . and now finally to return this way.

"I always feel small around dead people."

"It seems so pointless," a medic growled.

"What?"

"The killing, shooting, the whole mess."

"Easy now."

"I apologize."

"Well, anyway," the sergeant said, "he's at peace."

"That's right. He got his truce."

"Great," the medic snapped, "that must be a comfort to him."

The four men stared uneasily at the bag. Death is routine to war but never to the men who fight it.

"I wonder if I'll make it," the boy said suddenly.

"What kind of talk is that?"

"Yeah, knock it off, huh?"

"Sorry. I don't really think about it much. But, like now, I just feel like running only there ain't no place to go."

"You're lucky, son," the sergeant muttered.

"I've felt that way through two more wars than you."

Third Peace Front

Air of Mystery Lifted by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's peace emissaries talked of Viet Nam with leaders on two continents today and the White House declared "everything this administration is doing is designed to bring about conditions in which peace is possible."

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said new diplomatic missions are likely because the President wants "more leaders of the world to know his views on Asia."

Moyers announced in Austin, Tex., the latest mission — this one to Canada. It came after presidential envoys W. Averell Harriman and Arthur J. Goldberg talked with Communist leaders and at the Vatican.

The diplomatic missions came in the face of a chilling blast of words from the leader of Communist North Viet Nam.

Until today, the Texas White House had been silent on Johnson's year-end peace offensive. Moyers broke that silence.

"We have a genuine desire to cooperate with anyone to whom peace is the desired goal that it is with us," he said.

Moyers said McGeorge Bundy, Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs, flew, secretly to Ottawa Wednesday night to meet with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

Canada, with Poland and India, is a member of the International Control Commission on Viet Nam.

Johnson himself planned to confer with Pearson by telephone later today, the White House said.

Harriman talked in Warsaw with Polish Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, then headed for Belgrade. There was speculation he might also go to Moscow.

Goldberg, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, conferred in Rome with Pope Paul VI, and said he would report directly to President Johnson on that conference. He called it an effort to reemphasize the U.S. desire for peace in Viet Nam.

Amendment Explained At Lions Meet

Explanation as to why Missourians should support Amendment 3 to the Missouri Constitution, regarding the re-apportionment of the House of Representatives of the state legislature, was given members of the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday, Rep. Morran D. Harris, of St. Clair County, spoke to the club and answered numerous questions regarding the issue.

Rep. Harris was introduced by Pettis County Representative Joe F. Rains, program chairman for the meeting in place of Chuck Branson, who was unable to be present.

In his talk, Rep. Harris impressed on the Lions the vote on the amendment is set for Jan. 14, (Friday) at a special election.

"It gives the means of drawing district lines by a 20-member bi-partisan commission," Harris said, and then went on to explain each congressional district committee, Democrat and Republican, will choose two members each for a total of 40 names. From this list Governor Warren E. Hearnes will then select one from each party congressional district for a commission of the 20 members, to draw up the House of Representatives into 163 districts.

"Actually, the amendment sets up the means and the number of members for the legislation under the re-apportionment as ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court some months ago."

"Killed Near Clinton"

His wife, Rebecca Ann, also injured, still is hospitalized.

Suspended Animation At Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — This world capital is in a strange, sombre, silent mood as 1966 approaches. It is as if everybody were listening — and fearing that what he may hear will spell evil.

Washington exists in a sort of state of suspended animation, enduring what might be called "The days of the great pause."

To be sure, the usual tourist groups rubberneck at the White House in the nippy winter sunshine. But there is less than the usual craning of necks — no expectancy that a tall man will lope out and shake hands. LBJ is away on the Pedernales.

On Capitol Hill, the cacophony of Congress has been stilled since October and won't resume until Jan. 10. There, too, is a sense of monumental emptiness, of marble halls devoid of the deliberations for which they were built.

The city, of course, is preparing to ring out the old. For $25 per person a big hotel will provide filet mignon, music, paper hats and noisemakers. Drinks will be extra, $1.25 apiece if not too fancy.

But nobody's heart seems to be in this merriment. On practically all minds and lips are the two words "Viet Nam."

And what is everybody — from the President in Texas to the lowliest clerk in the Pentagon — listening for?

They are straining to catch a favorable word, a promising sign, from Ho Chi Minh, President of North Viet Nam — something more pacific than his declaration Wednesday that "U.S. leaders want war and not peace."

The old (75), wispy oriental with the straggly beard may influence vastly, from his capital 8,000 miles away, the history of the United States, if not the world.

For example, he may determine whether energy and money are drained away from the proposed "Great Society" into an escalating war. It is up to him, really, to say whether some school dropout in Harlem shall be trained at a federal-financed lathe or left to his fate on slum sidewalks; whether some newly married Kansas farm youth shall be drafted away from his bride and sent to jungle war.

"Frankly, I did not feel in my own mind the fuel cells could last 24 hours," Borman said.

A fuel cell water disposal problem developed aboard Gemini 7 after the Dec. 15 rendezvous with Gemini 6.

Borman, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, said flight director Chris Kraft, after detailed ground studies, reassured him the fuel cells would continue to supply the spacecraft with electrical power the full 14 days.

"I slept better that night than any other night," Borman said. As things turned out, he said.

"Trombonist Goldwater Taking Up The Tuba"

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater has conquered the tuba and is taking up the tuba.

Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential candidate, played "Silent Night" on the tuba to win a bet with his sister-in-law that he could learn to play the tune by Christmas.

Then for Christmas, the family gave him the tuba. A family member reported that Goldwater also played "Silent Night" on the tuba.

"Police Car In Accident During Chase"

A chase by the police of two juvenile boys starting at Ninth and Ohio about 3:50 p. m. Wednesday ended near 24th and d Marvin when the police car driven by Officer J. M. Lawson figured in an accident. Occupants of the other car involved escaped injury, while the two juveniles succeeded in eluding the police after they had passed the vehicle involved in the mishap.

Officer Lawson observed the 1949 Ford automobile exceeding the speed limit and took up the chase, and the boys refused to obey the police siren and red signal light, going south on Ohio, thence east on 24th. The boys not only reached high speeds but went through two traffic stop signs one at Ohio and 16th and the other at 24th and Engineer.

As the two speeding cars went east, the old car succeeded in passing a 1957 Chevrolet, driven by Terry A. Prall, 19, 911 South Osage Prall was starting to turn into a driveway at 719 East 24th, when he heard the police car and succeeded in driving far enough to keep from being hit broadside. The left front of the 1966 Dodge police car driven by Lawson struck the rear left fender of the Chevrolet, knocking it into a drive and gulley along side the roadway.

Income Tax Deductions Hike Studied

Economic Weapon In Prevention Of Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you get a higher-than-average paycheck, the government may soon be taking a bigger bite out of it in the form of increased income tax deductions.

This would be the principal effect of a proposed overhaul of the income tax withholding system. It also would mean lower deductions for those in the lower income brackets.

The change would substitute one of three graduated withholding rates for the present flat rate. It would not change income tax rates.

Treasury officials decline to discuss details. Presumably, the decision on whether to propose the change will be made by President Johnson. The ultimate decision will rest with Congress.

There is a possibility that the administration may use the withholding tax as an economic weapon just as it did in 1964. However, this time it would be employed to take more funds out of the hands of consumers to reduce the threat of inflation.

In 1964, the withholding rate was set lower than necessary in order to put more money in the hands of consumers quickly and eliminate a potential business letdown.

The amount of this "braking power" would not be great — perhaps $1 billion to $3 billion — but government economists may conclude that it is the handiest anti-inflation weapon available. Administration officials believe it would be more acceptable to Congress than an income tax increase.

"Plumbing Inspector Charged In Violation Of Litter Ordinance"

Sedalia's plumbing inspector was arrested Wednesday afternoon on a city warrant signed by Sanitation Officer Willard Morris charging him with violating the city anti-litter ordinance.

Herbert R. Wasson, 508 North Grand, was released after signing a $50 bond and is to appear in Police Court on Jan. 5.

The anti-litter ordinance provides that any alleged violators be sent five days notice of the ordinance's terms before any court action is begun.

Wasson told The Democrat-Capital he received a form letter on Dec. 24 from the sanitation officer. The letter included the anti-litter ordinance in its entirety and at the bottom the notation "east side of building" had been written in.

"The way it was put to us in Kansas City was the commission made us think that if we didn't do it they would make the raise," the assessor said. "It was just a threat and not a direct order."

"But now I understand that the commission has written letters to be in the hands of county assessors by January 1 making this a direct order."

No such written order has been received here as yet, however.

Two Brothers Found Dead In Residence

Two brothers, Maurice Jones, 59, and Henry C. Jones, 57, were found dead at 414 Wilkerson about 5:15 p. m. Wednesday by Miss Freda Mueller, who occupies an apartment at that residence. Both had committed suicide, according to Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, who was called to the scene.

According to Dr. Stauffacher they had been dead about two hours before they were found. Henry was found hanging from a water pipe in the downstairs apartment kitchen while Maurice was found lying partly in a hallway and the kitchen of the upstairs apartment, dead from a gunshot wound.

Officers surmise Maurice killed himself first and he was found by his brother, who then went to an upstairs front room and attempted to hang himself from a light fixture in the center of the room. When the light fixture failed to hold and crashed, Henry then went to the downstairs kitchen dragging his rope and the fixture, attached it to the water pipe, then using a bench stepped off of it his feet dragging the floor.

Maurice had used a new 22-caliber pump rifle to shoot himself in the roof of his mouth, the bullet coming out the upper part of the right side of the head, ranging up and into the ceiling of the kitchen.

Miss Mueller, employed at Adco Inc., reported she had just returned from her work and as she went into the kitchen saw the younger of the two men. She notified Terry Pile, who owns the residence, and a brother-in-law of the two men, and also notified the police.

She said both were quiet and never once did she feel there was anything wrong which might cause such an act.

Living Cost Takes Fast Paced Climb

Food Products Only Items Steady During December

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs, rising at the fastest rate in seven years, went up another two-tenths of one per cent last month, the Labor Department said today.

Prices were higher for all major items — including housing, clothing, transportation and medical care — except food, which held steady.

The increase brought the government's consumer price index to 110.6. The figure means it cost $11.06 in November to purchase items worth $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The rise in typical family living costs brought the value of a 1957-59 dollar down to 90.4 cents.

Despite the record high level of the index, Deputy Commissioner Robert J. Myers of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said there was reason to hope that future price rises could be held to moderate levels.

He said the November increase bucked a seasonal trend in which prices usually hold steady and that a further increase could be expected when December figures are all in.

"This is a real increase," Myers said of the November rise.

Average after-tax earnings of factory workers were at an all-time high of $98.26 a week for workers with three dependents and $90.50 for single workers.

Consumer prices were up 1.7 per cent above November a year ago, compared with an annual rate of increase of 1.2 per cent over the previous five years.

The 1.7 per cent figure was the highest annual rate of increase since 1958, when prices went up 2.8 per cent over the year.

Myers said he did not believe the war in Viet Nam was exerting a very important influence on consumer prices.

One Foot Apart In Flight

Spacecraft Rendezvous Success Told

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut Walter Schirra said today he and his Gemini 6 pilot, Air Force Maj. Thomas Stafford, maneuvered their spacecraft within one foot of Gemini 7 during their historic Dec. 15 space rendezvous.

Earlier estimates had ranged from three to 10 feet.

"We got within a foot but we had agreed before the flight that the spacecraft would not touch," Schirra said.

"A range of 120 feet is rendezvous," Schirra, a Navy captain, said. "From there on it is station keeping" — flying in formation.

Schirra and Stafford joined with Gemini 7 astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell in detailing the rendezvous maneuvers that bolstered the nation's hopes of reaching the moon within the decade.

Borman also said a fuel cell problem at the end of the twelfth day had caused him to fear the Gemini 7 spacecraft could not complete its scheduled 14-day world record mission.

"Frankly, I did not feel in my own mind the fuel cells could last 24 hours," Borman said.

A fuel cell water disposal problem developed aboard Gemini 7 after the Dec. 15 rendezvous with Gemini 6.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I have been seeing a psychiatrist who is supposed to be tops in this city. He has helped me a lot and the treatments are worth every cent I have spent.

It will be two years next month since I began to see this doctor. He talks to me endlessly about his house which he dislikes because it is too small. He has confided that his children are maladjusted because he over-reacts to them. (He says psychiatrists' children suffer because their parents are forever searching for signs of abnormal behavior.) I know, too, that his wife has an unhealthy attachment to her father.

Yesterday all I did was listen. At the end of the session, I felt like saying, "That will be $25, please."

As I said, this psychiatrist has done me a world of good and I have no intention of discontinuing treatment until he tells me I should, but I'm beginning to think I am the therapist and he is the patient. What is your opinion?—TABLES TURNED.

Dear Tables: This man's behavior is so unprofessional that I wonder if he really is a psychiatrist. But if the therapy has worked for you, who am I to pull the plug?

Dear Ann Landers: I did a rotten thing to my best friend and now I don't know how to patch it up. Please help me before I crack up.

Elaine and I have been like sisters since we were in the fifth grade. Now we are both 16. Elaine was going with Sid and I decided I would try to get him away just to see if I could. I made a play for him and it worked. In fact it worked so good that he won't leave me alone.

Sid calls me every night and I am so bored with his dumb ways that I want to hang up when I hear his voice. He has bought me two record albums and a box of candy. Last week he wrote a couple poems for me that are icky.

Elaine tries to be sweet but I can see the hurt look in her eyes and I hate myself. Please tell me what to do about this ugly mess.—SELF-MADE TROUBLE.

Dear Trouble: Give Urpy the word and right away. Just tell him he is not for you and that's that.

People who break all the rules to get what they want usually find it really wasn't worth the trouble. Right?

Dear Ann Landers: There seems to be a lot of fighting back and forth in your column over whether the parents should attempt to help their children with their homework if the teacher fails to get something across in school. This letter should settle it.

Last night was visiting night at my child's school. This is what the fourth grade teacher said:

"If your child comes home and asks you to help him because he does not understand something, please send us a note saying he needs extra attention. Don't try to teach him yourself. This is the teacher's job. A youngster sometimes becomes confused if too many people attempt to instruct him."

I was very happy to learn that my child's teacher is so conscientious. She recognizes her responsibility and wants to live up to it. How many other teachers are in her league? — A LUCKY MOTHER.

Dear Lucky: More than you think, I keep being impressed anew by the qualities of the teachers I meet. And I've seen a great many these past ten years.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Resolution Guide Handy At Yearend

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Having trouble making your annual New Year resolutions?

Maybe you're trying to reform yourself too fast. It can be overdone, you know.

There is no point in making 1,001 vows on things you are going to do next year to make yourself a better person. This only creates laughter in heaven, as the angels know no man can become that perfect.

If you must make positive vows, keep them few and simple, such as, "I hereby resolve to eat regularly in 1966 and try in every way possible to inherit as much money as I can."

A better way is to take a negative attitude.

For example, I have pledged myself in 1966 never to —

Buy the Brooklyn Bridge, unless they gift-wrap it.

Beat my wife or the family cat.

Do my daughter's home work problems in algebra.

Grow a beard.

Be the last guy to laugh when the boss tells a joke.

Give stock market tips to strangers.

Learn to play the zither.

Tell the neighbors how to deal with their teen-age children.

Purchase a charming old house in the suburbs and do it over myself.

Eat caviar, except on doctor's orders.

Follow any program of exercises that requires more than 10 knee bends a month.

Ask anyone at a cocktail party why he is for or against our policy in Viet Nam.

Borrow money from anyone except a known enemy. None of my known friends ever seem to have any cash.

Well, that's one man's program for self-improvement in 1966. It may not improve a fellow's character much, but it will help keep him from wasting his time in nonsensical ways — and that's a big step forward to take in any year.

Klan Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities resumes its hearings on the Ku Klux Klan next Tuesday.

The committee is expected to examine Klan operations in a sixth state.

Before its hearings were postponed in the fall, the committee heard testimony about the Klan in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

Sevier Is New Head Of Shrine Club

Robert Sevier, Jr., was elected president of the Sedalia Shrine Club for 1966; H. Ray Anderson, vice-president; T. W. Augur, treasurer; George Ray, secretary, with members of the board, Adolph Glenn, chairman; Paul Dowdy, Don McQueen, Floyd Knerl, W. W. Jesse, Burt Heacock, Lloyd Farris and Charles Pahlow.

Officers and board members will be installed at a dinner meeting on Jan. 27, at the Masonic Temple.

The meeting of the Sedalia Shrine Club was held on Thursday, Dec. 23, at the Masonic Temple, at which time the Smith-Cotton Madrigal Singers presented a delightful Christmas program.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. Clifford Saunders, pastor of the Federated Church, whose theme was "Come Walk With Me." He impressively described the first Christmas; the simplicity, there being no room for them in the crowded city; the fact that only a few came to recognize the babe as the King of Peace; and correlated these thoughts with the true meaning of Christmas for all today.

Russell Walker, a member of the Sedalia Shrine Club, entertained the group with his magic tricks.

The president, Adolph Glenn, presided during the evening, and this being the last meeting of the year, thanked all of his committee chairmen, with special appreciation expressed to Zack and Mildred Heady, kitchen chairmen; Henry and Roberta Niemann, dining room chairmen; Fred and Anastasia Wertz, decorating chairmen; Lloyd and Mary Farris, entertainment chairmen; Dr. F. O. and Grace Murphy, Crippled Children chairmen; Floyd Knerl, Nirk Lewis and Everett White, fairgrounds chairmen; T. W. Augur and Laurie Judd, ticket chairmen. He also thanked Mrs. Nick Lewis, Charles Peecher and Paul Bidstrup for their help at the Fair concession.

Nick Lewis was announced as the outstanding Shriner of the year of the Sedalia Shrine Club for 1965.

More than 100 nobles, wives and guests were served at the oyster stew and chicken gumbo dinner.

Renewal Plan Discussion By Optimists

To the question "How can I lose if I vote for the Sedalia Renewal Plan?" Rev. George Sparling, pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church, addressing members of the Optimist Club at Bothwell Hotel said Tuesday, the answer is "You can't."

Chairman of the Sedalia Renewal Program on which Sedalia people will vote soon, Sparling went on to explain that no taxes will be voted at this election. This is simply a vote of the people to put the program into effect. Then there will be five commissioners appointed by the City Council for the purpose of coming up with renewal plans.

Already 14 Missouri cities have taken advantage of the federal funds for renewal programs. These federal funds are from taxes we pay and if we do not take advantage of them, other communities will and will grow and progress on money we pay.

The federal Urban Renewal program, he went on to say, pays three-fourths of the cost and the city one-fourth, but he told the group, things Sedalia has done for itself in the past few years will be accepted as credit on that one-fourth and to start with no money will be necessary. If there is a need for money to continue with programs planned later the people will be given an opportunity to vote whether they want to spend money on the programs or not.

The Sedalia Renewal Program, he stated, is to eliminate blighted areas of the town where houses and buildings have deteriorated to such a degree that they are unsightly. Some of the better houses can be fixed up, others need to be torn down, and the entire area, wherever it may be in the city, divided into larger lots for modern type homes. This would make taxable property where there is none now, he stated.

The town, he continued, is 100 years old and without proper development it grows haphazardly. This way it will develop according to a plan. Any homes that are condemned, he said, the people will be moved to a better place.

Federal Housing and the Renewal Program will be combined for the building of a more beautiful community.

There has been little opposition, the speaker said, only from two or three persons, but when one man told him that he had no right to hold the chairmanship because he did not pay taxes, Rev. Sparling pointed out that he did pay federal taxes and this was federal money, which means it was some of his money.

It is true, that in his profession he could be sent somewhere else, but while he is here, he said, "This is my town. It is a good town and I plan to do what I can to make it still a better one."

Rev. Sparling then quoted his son, Bruce, who is away in another state in college. "Dad," Bruce said, "you don't know what it means to live in Sedalia. This will be my home town as long as I live."

Bruce then told his father how some of the boys in his college fuss about their home towns. "I don't feel that way about Sedalia," he said.

Rev. Sparling was introduced by R. L. Settles.

Wray Schroeder, president, presided over the business meeting at which time the Optimist Club endorsed the Sedalia Renewal Plan.

Invocation was given by Rev. Sparling and music was by Mrs. Lillian Maynard.

Beef Specials Still Offered

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Most livestock prices are higher this week but storekeepers still are offering specials on beef.
Pork, beef and lamb production all were down in 1965, and retail prices are now higher at some stores.
Shoppers will pay more for canned fruits and vegetables in the months ahead. Stocks of peaches, asparagus, corn, snap beans and tomatoes all are lower than last year, but there are more peas.
Three staple vegetables—cabbage, potatoes and onions—are plentiful. Stocks of frozen orange juice concentrate are bigger than usual and prices are falling.
Butter prices are down in the Northeast and Midwest and on the West Coast this week. So are eggs.

One Man, One Vote Basis

To Revamp City, County Voting In Several Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Voters who want a bigger say in the election of their city councils, county commissions and school boards have taken their case to court in communities from New York City to Snohomish County, Wash.

Their aim? To apply in local elections the letter of the one man-one vote doctrine set down by the Supreme Court for apportionment of state legislatures.

In at least 16 states, local government reapportionment cases have been filed or threatened. Some cities have reapportioned their elective bodies in the 18 months since the Supreme Court determined that both branches of state legislatures should be apportioned on the basis of population.

New York State's Court of Appeals already has held that the one man-one vote rule applies to local legislative bodies. So has a U.S. District Court in New York.

New York City reapportioned its council eight months ago to meet the one man-one vote test. But the city still has a problem. In addition to the 27 district councilmen, there are 10 councilmen at large, two from each borough. That adds two votes for the 222,000 people on Staten Island, and two votes for the 2.7 million in Brooklyn. Members of the Liberal party have challenged the at-large election system. After a three-judge federal court upheld the system, the challengers appealed to the Supreme Court.

In Snohomish County, north of Seattle, Wash., district apportionment for the election of three county commissioners is being challenged.

State Sen. Robert Greive of Seattle said he might try to carry the one man-one vote rule into political organization, seeking in court to force election of delegates to the Democratic State Central Committee on a population basis.

In Ohio, state officials expect to see apportionment suits at the local level before long. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said he is sure there will be action in one of the 133 Ohio communities which elect their councilmen on a ward basis.

What Saxbe forecast in Ohio already has happened in cities and counties scattered through much of the nation.

Among them: —Butte, Mont. There a woman named Phoebe Herweg challenged population discrepancies in the city's eight wards. The City Council was elected on an at-large basis this year. Then U.S. Dist. Judge W. D. Murray handed down an order which equalized the eight wards so that the smallest has only 95 fewer voters than the largest.

Next year, county precincts and school district precincts are to be realigned to conform with Butte's new apportionment.

—Rutherford County, Tenn. Sixteen citizens have filed suit in U.S. District Court seeking reapportionment of the school commission. Charging "invidious geographic discrimination," the suit says voter population in the county's school zones ranges from 455 in the smallest to 10,110 in the largest.

Reapportionment demands have been aimed, as well, at the Washington County Court by people in Johnson City, Tenn., and at the Coffee County Court by the Bar Association in Tullahoma, Tenn.

—Tulsa County, Okla. Here, a new apportionment designed to equalize population in county commissioner districts goes into effect Dec. 20 after a long political feud.

Reapportionment came in Comanche County, Okla., after a State District Court ruling, and in Washington County when a suit was threatened.

—Jackson County, Mo. Kansas City Mayor Irl W. Davis, and Della Hadley of the League of Women Voters filed suit seeking reapportionment of two County Court (commission) districts.

The reapportionment they seek would give Kansas City a far stronger voice in county government. They said the western district, which includes the city, has 440,379 people; the eastern district 182,361.

—South Bend, Ind. The City Council, controlled by Republicans, is arguing about reapportionment now. State Sen. Leonard Opperman, a Democrat, said legislation to require population balance within 10 per cent may be filed at the next General Assembly session, in 1967. He said it would apply to city and county councils, and to county boards of commissioners.

—Suffolk County, N.Y. A three-judge federal court has ruled invalid a system allowing each of the county's 10 towns to choose one county supervisor. The towns range in population from 1,312 to 173,000.

The Democratic-controlled state legislature passed a bill to require that county boards be reapportioned on a population basis. Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller vetoed it. His chief complaint was a provision prohibiting the submission of county reapportionment plans to the voters for a final decision.

Republicans now control 51 of the 57 county boards outside New York City.

—Monroe County, N.Y. A new charter, adopted Nov. 2, substitutes a county legislature, apportioned on a population basis, for the board of supervisors. The county includes Rochester.

—Juneau, Alaska. The city

filed a court challenge against the weighted vote system used in the Greater Juneau Borough Assembly. The suit also challenged the legality of an assembly in which rural members outnumber the city's representatives. "As things now stand," said City Atty. Joseph Henri, "the city cannot comply with the constitutional requirement of one person-one vote, and one legislator-one vote."

—Virginia Beach and Chesapeake, Va. Both must seek reapportionment of City council representation at the next session of the state legislature, or face a court order to hold elections at large.

U.S. dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman issued that ruling Dec. 7.

—Harrison County, Miss. Four taxpayers have filed suit seeking reapportionment of supervisory districts. They now are apportioned on the basis of area as well as population. The suit charges unequal population.

—Baltimore, Md. The City Council is working on a reapportionment plan to satisfy a court order. One proposed plan has been ruled invalid because it was based on voter registration instead of total population.

(Continued from Page One) the mission was completed without difficulty and was a "testimonial as to how good the fuel cells were."

Lovell revealed that the Gemini 7 crew carried books on the flight for relaxation.

"Reading something entirely separate from the spacecraft was quite good," said the Navy commander.

Borman and Lovell circled the globe 206 times during 14 days in space, proving to doctors' satisfaction man could adequately adapt to long voyages in weightlessness. They returned to earth Dec. 18.

"Man has demonstrated he has the ability to equal the machine in space," Dr. Charles A. Berry, the flight surgeon, told the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Berkeley, Calif., Wednesday night in describing the Gemini 6 flight.

Capt. James McIntyre (Dayton, Ohio)

Capt. James McIntyre, 31, Dayton, Ohio, formerly of Knob Noster, was killed about 3 p. m. Wednesday as the B-47 jet plane he was piloting crashed on take-off from Holloman Air Force Base, near Alamogordo, N.M. He was previously stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base for approximately five years. He was, at the time of his death, based at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, near Dayton.

Assessment

estate assessments are made at the rate of 30 per cent of market value.

Pettis County's present assessment rate averages 31.6 per cent, Trotter said, and the county has had little difficulty in recent years with the State Tax Commission requesting additional raises. Other area counties have not been so fortunate, though.

Trotter is apparently not alone in his decision to defy the commission's 40 per cent ruling. Some opposition was reported to the move at the assessors meeting in Kansas City and it has been reported that 15 assessors in southeast Missouri have banded together to oppose the hike. Cole County's assessor Howard Gafke has also been quoted as saying he will not apply the increase unless forced to do so by the commission.

The Missouri Automobile Dealers Association has opposed the commission directive charging it is discriminatory against new car dealers and owners. Ralph Kalberloh, executive director of the auto dealers association, has been quoted as saying that he has talked to some county assessors who do not intend to follow the directive, which they had viewed as merely advisory.

Kalberloh said if the 40 per cent assessment was enforced, it could hurt the sale of new cars in the state — especially those persons who buy a new car every year would give consideration to putting off purchases because of the higher tax caused by the increased assessment.

Hunter B. Phillips, chairman of the tax commission, has said the directive was aimed at eliminating disparities in the level of assessments throughout the state, which he said vary from five to 70 per cent of market value. Phillips says assessments would decrease in some counties and increase in others, according to present assessment rates.

Motor car valuations are said to compose about 47 per cent of the total personal property valuation in the state.

In making the announcement at the Kansas City meeting, the commission handed out assessment books identical to ones being used in Jackson County.

Trotter acknowledged that the assessment rates there are higher than in Pettis County and he said the local rate on vehicles has actually been just below 30 per cent. The commission feels, however, that if the assessment books it suggests are used there would be equalization over the state.

In announcing his plan to defy the commission's suggested figure, Trotter said he felt his first obligation was to the Pettis Countians who elected him.

"The people here elected me to make a fair assessment and keep the rates about equal. Not to milk every last dime that's available."

Trotter, however, has conferred with Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz, the county's legal officer, and Fritz feels the commission does have the power to order the increase to 40 per cent. But he added that he had no information as to whether the increase had been formally ordered — or if it was a suggested move.

Fritz noted Thursday that the 1963 legislature had passed a law requiring the State Department of Revenue to provide counties with a list of state motor vehicle registrations in each county.

"This coupled with the commission's power to raise or lower assessments, although there is no specific statute, seems to make the increase unavoidable if the commission orders it," Fritz said.

In preparing for this eventuality, Trotter said he would like to call on Pettis Countians for their cooperation in giving his deputy assessors full information on their motor vehicles.

"We will need to know the year, make and model of car," Trotter pointed out, "as well as size of engine and size of trucks."

This information would insure a fair assessment, Trotter emphasized as the wide variety of optional size and equipment on motor cars today leaves a simple statement of age of the vehicle almost useless for assessment purposes.

Should the State Tax Commission directive be enforced, the same rates would apply on the city assessment in Sedalia as the city government contracts with Trotter to supply his assessment rolls to the city collector. Although the city has an assessor, he has no assessment duties to perform.

The 10 per cent increase would not be felt here though until November, 1966, when city and county tax statements are mailed. New car owners, assessed for the first time, would really feel the bite, Trotter pointed out, as they would pay the increase on a car which by tax-paying time is actually a year old.

As the time for a start on 1966

Accidents

Kenneth Connor, 14, 1017 South Lamine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Connor, suffered injuries about 4:30 p. m. Wednesday when he fell from his bicycle in front of 1025 East 24th.

The youngster was noted lying in the street by Officer J. M. Lawson, whose police patrol car figured in an accident near Marvin, and asked a newsman to check on the boy. Young Connor apparently was unconscious for a few minutes before arrival of help. Just before help reached him he got up, dragged his bicycle off the roadway and fell on his back on the lawn.

He was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in an Ewing ambulance where Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer rendered medical treatment and had x-rays taken of the youth's head. The boy suffered a concussion, abrasion of the forehead and bruises on the left arm.

The boy was admitted to the hospital for further observation.

A rearend collision at 7:55 a. m. Thursday in the 1200 block of West Broadway damaged both autos.

Police reported a 1964 Ford, driven east on Broadway by Laura Ruth Oelrichs, 31, Route 1, Mora, had stopped behind another car which was preparing to make a left turn on to Park Avenue. The Oelrichs auto was struck in the rear by 1964 Buick driven by Clarence R. Broyles, 33, 1301 South Warren.

Police listed damage to the right rear of the Oelrichs car and to the left front on the Broyles machine.

Broyles was issued a summons for careless and imprudent driving and is to appear in Police Court on Dec. 31, police said.

Wins Prize For Work

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Dr. John Papaconstantinou, 35, a University of Connecticut biochemist, won this year's $1,000 award from the American Association for the Advancement of Science for his paper on how different organs are formed from one tissue, a process known as cell differentiation.

Content To Wait For Lord's Call

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Ole Sholberg, 103, and his wife, Otila, 101, who live contentedly while "waiting for the Lord to call us," observe their 80th wedding anniversary next Wednesday.

"We have never had a serious quarrel," said Mrs. Sholberg in a soft voice. "He has been a good man, and we have had a happy life. We still have a happy life."

Ole sat with his arm around Otila. His wife caressed his hand, and smiled.

Sholberg has poor hearing and vision. His face is strong, marbled by the winter spray of the North Sea, where as a boy in Norway he helped his father fish. There are lines, too, which somehow tell how he, as a frontier husband and father in western Minnesota, shielded his family from blizzards and forest fires.

Families of the couple came to the United States two years apart.

The couple met when Ole was a boy of 15. They were married seven years later, on Jan. 5, 1886.

Sholberg borrowed $100 as the down payment on a farm and hauled 60 loads of hay into town the first summer to pay for the lumber he used to build his first two-room home. Ole was a good carpenter, and he helped build many other pioneer homes.

The Sholbergs' six daughters and two sons will be with the couple to help observe the anniversary.

On Jan. 9, sitting in their tidy Fergus Falls home which Ole built when he was 80, the couple will listen by radio to a special service at Bethlehem Lutheran church, another building which Ole helped build. The service will be dedicated to the Sholbergs. Letters of congratulations, including one from President Johnson, will be read.

The Rev. Otto Dale, their pastor, says the Sholbergs are not afraid of death.

"They have had a long and glorious life," he said. "They have had a beautiful marriage."

World Communism Dispute Influences Ho's Decisions

An AP News Analysis
By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

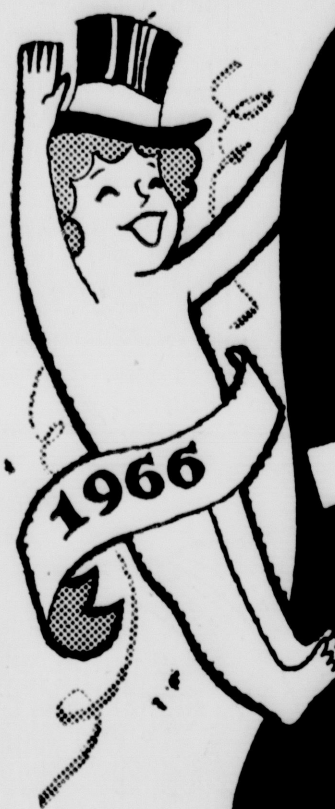

The key to success or failure of Viet Nam peace bids may rest in the fragile hands of an ancient revolutionary caught in the titanic struggle for power between the world's two Communist giants.

Ho Chi Minh at 75 has had half a century of tumultuous activity in the cause of international communism as a tactician of revolution. Today "Uncle Ho," as president of North Viet Nam, confronts a situation that may seem insoluble.

As an internationalist, Ho probably is inclined to follow Moscow's lead. That might mean

Men's Hair Salon Runs Mostly On 'Snob Appeal'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—As usual, I was about two weeks late in getting a haircut. And, as usual, some fellow worker wise-cracked that I might as well go to a beauty parlor and get it set. I did the next best thing. I went to a men's hair salon.

Two hours later, I had some compassion for the distal population. My hair had indeed been styled—and I had gone through a shampoo, sat under a dryer and been topped with hair spray in the process.

But you can bet your scissors and razors—no electric clippers, please—I got my $7 worth—which is the shop fee.

One step across the marble foyer puts the work-a-day world far away indeed. You step on the plush carpet, hand your coat to an attendant—perhaps with your shoes for a shine—and settle back in a velvet-backed oak chair to await your turn.

Then into the thick of things, where Sue Hinds—a graduate of both beauty and barber schools—holds a razor in wait. After Sue expertly whisks the sharp instrument around your head, trying a few new styles in the process, it's on to the shampoo couch. Then to the dryer. And finally back to go, where your hair style is finally perfected.

Do men feel self-conscious about sitting under a hair dryer? Not by the hair on your chinny-chin-chin.

"Nobody feels any complex sitting under the dryer because, Buddy, everybody goes under here," says co-owner Tim Bishop.

What do they say about the hair spray?

"Nothing. As a matter of fact, many men confide they've been using their wives' spray for years."

The shop, says Bishop, operates successfully on the "snob appeal" associated with it. Substantial businessmen, and some prominent recording artists, are numbered among the customers.

Bishop, who has been in the business of styling women's hair for 18 years, has definite tenets by which he feels every male head of hair ought to live.

"First, a man should have hair on his head. Period. No man should walk the streets with his skin in the wind. Secondly—and of almost equal importance—no grease. Period. No hair oil. Period. Wash the hair

Magazine Suspended For Critical Reports

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Nationalist Chinese government has suspended the independent monthly magazine Wen Hsing (Apollo) for a year because it criticized the government.

The Interior Ministry said the magazine had been registered as a publication devoted purely to literary subjects but had become a political journal strongly critical of the government.

Now, 127 years later, the state wants to know if it can keep the money.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt told Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in a letter Tuesday that Congress should decide whether to demand repayment or release the state from any obligation to repay.

In 1836, Congress voted to distribute a federal surplus of $28 million among the states as loans, payable on demand.

Business Analysts See Signs of Continuing Capital Spending Spree

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—American business is on a capital spending spree that shows every sign of continuing far into the new year.

Peace scares and war scares may cause tremors now and then in the stock market. But the less emotional planners of the course of industry in the months ahead tend to shrug them off.

Orders for machine tools—a symbol of business expansion and modernization—are pouring in at a rate unequalled since the Korean War.

White Population In Kenya Reduced

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Kenya's white population has dropped by one-third in the last five years. There now are 41,000 whites in Kenya's total population of 9,365,000.

During the same five-year period, the Asian population increased from 173,000 to 186,000. The Arab population is 37,000.

No Feeling of Revulsion

One might have expected a national feeling of revulsion over the highway death toll of more than 700 persons during the Christmas holiday week-end. There was little evidence of any such reaction by the people, at least not in Sedalia.

Oh, there were unemotional casual remarks in an offhand sort of way by some newspaper headline readers.

So, here we approach another holiday week-end. What will be the total of deaths this time?

Has the practice of men killing each other become so routine or fatalistic that 50,000 deaths in one year on the highways doesn't jar the sensibilities? Or has it become a fascinating game of guessing whether or not a new record of slaughter will be established each holiday period similar to what occurred last week?

For months there has been great clamor over the Viet Nam fracas, undeclared war or whatever you want to call it, because of mounting casualties. By comparison with highway deaths the military deaths are minimal — less than 2,000 since this imperfect war started. By definition, that is just about what it is—an imperfect war, one limited as to places, persons and things. An interesting sidelight on the subject is that as repugnant as they are, there are perfect wars as well as imperfect ones. Imagine that! A war is called perfect if it is between whole or sovereign states.

We ran across a quotation by Emerson made in the last century on the subject of war that is apropos today not only of armed conflict but also highway slaughter.

In paraphrase here it is: "The killing of people on the highways, to sane men at the present day, begins to look like an epidemic insanity, breaking out here and there like the cholera or influenza, infecting men's brains instead of their bowels."

That may be an inelegant way of putting it, but both war and the highway carnage are inelegant, too. They will never be anything else until sane men acquire and use more diplomacy in settling international disputes with brain power instead of weapons' power; and until sane men use their motor vehicles more cautiously.

The time for a resolution to accomplish either or both is the present hour

Short Skirt, Less Tax

In Britain the modern tax is different from that imposed on the colonies centuries ago. The present tax on women's clothes requires representation. The shorter the skirt, the freer it is from taxation. The reason is that children's clothes are tax exempt. Therefore, the women of Britain think they have solved the tax problem by making their dresses look like little girls' dresses. The hem lines have gone up, up, and up, until some of them are only mid-thigh length. The customs officials are being told to raise their eyes to the bust line. No child has a 32 inch bust line and corresponding hip line. Such measurements are now being taxed. The British female who is a woman and not a little girl obviously will have to pay the tax.

In contrast to the short skirts in Britain, the granny gowns are in vogue in Holly-

SAN CARLOS (Calif.) ENQUIRER: As Secure As we Make Them.—Last summer, the English-speaking world observed the 750th anniversary of the signing of the Magna Carta by King John of England on the plain of Runnymede. This document became the cornerstone of British and American law and government.

On Dec. 15, Americans celebrated the 17th anniversary of a lineal descendant of the Magna Carta, their own "Bill of Rights," the first 10 amendments to the United States Constitution.

These first 10 amendments to the Constitution guarantee freedom of speech, press, worship, assembly and petition; the right to a speedy trial by jury; protection against unreasonable search and seizure, excessive bail, double jeopardy and testifying against oneself. They also reserve to the people all powers not expressly delegated to the Federal Government.

Consider how these rights are woven into the very fabric of our daily lives. Consider also how many times these rights are challenged in one way or another. Yet they stand as a bulwark of human liberty and against tyranny as staunchly today as they did when they were adopted.

This is the way it must be. We must always defend these rights against the forces of the left and right who may wish to twist them to their own ends. They are only as secure as we make them secure.

wood with empire bust lines and ankle length skirts. American women don't seem to worry about the tax although it is well hidden by the sales tax in most states.

Seeks Honorable Discharge for Oswald

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson is in the Holy Land. During his absence the column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Believe it or not, the Navy has submitted the case of Lee Harvey Oswald, the misfit ex-Marine who assassinated President Kennedy, to a civilian review board to determine whether he should receive an honorable discharge posthumously.

The Marines gave him an undesirable discharge in 1959 after he had asked to be released as a hardship case but turned up instead in Russia, declaring his preference for the Soviet system.

Though he had forsaken his country, he wrote to then-Secretary of the Navy John Connally demanding a reversal of his undesirable discharge. The discharge review board rejected his request.

This might even have been the secret motive for his terrible crime. It is significant that Connally, as governor of Texas, was riding with Kennedy in the fateful motorcade which passed under Oswald's window on the road to downtown Dallas. The torment Oswald gunned them both down, though Connally survived.

Now Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, has applied formally to set aside the undesirable discharge and win an honorable discharge for her son.

Strangely, the discharge review board did not reject the request outright as it had done previously, but submitted it to the civilian board of corrections for a formal hearing.

A Navy spokesman assured this column that the handling of Mrs. Oswald's request was purely routine. The discharge review board has the option of rejecting the request or forwarding it to the board of corrections, he said. He would not predict what action the board will take.

Luci Wouldn't Wait

Like many a father before him, President Johnson tried to talk his 18-year-old daughter, Luci, and her 22-year-old boy friend,

Pat Nugent, into holding up their engagement.

The president had a fatherly talk with the young couple several weeks ago at the LBJ ranch. He recalled that he was 26 when he married Luci's mother, who was then nearly 22. This, he suggested, was about the right age. He urged Luci to wait at least until she finished her nursing studies.

But Luci and Pat were impatient, and LBJ was indulgent. Luci lightened the conversation by joking about the difficulty of courting with Secret Service bodyguards chaperoning every date. She remarked ruefully that she and Pat might be the first young couple to be married without ever having been alone together.

Note: During his recent visit with Pope Paul, the president boasted that his daughter was keeping company with a "fine Catholic boy."

Reverse Peace Corps

Often overlooked in the explosion of war news are the men who work quietly for peace. Their efforts seldom produce the sensational and spectacular events which make headlines.

One such is Carl Stenzler, a Philadelphia educator, who has started a peace corps in reverse. He found that foreign students in this country often stayed to themselves, never discovering what America is really like, often going home with wrong impressions.

To draw them out, he began inviting them to his neighborhood Ogontz Junior High School to answer questions about their countries. The idea caught on in other Philadelphia schools, which invited foreign students to lecture as substitute teachers.

In 1965, more than 10,000 Philadelphia pupils have learned about foreign countries from these exchange students. In this way, the young people have learned more about each other.

The Ogontz plan, as this reverse peace corps idea is called, is now spreading to other areas.

Tinkering With Congress Machinery

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — A joint committee is expected to come up early next year with a host of recommendations for modernizing Congress.

But if any proposals involve significant changes in the operation or structure of Congress, they aren't likely to get anywhere.

The 12-member committee of six senators and six representatives was created by Congress last March and was given $150,000 to finance its studies and hearings. It has held numerous public hearings and is due to go out of business on Jan. 31.

Many of the recommendations made to the committee by congressional students both inside and outside of Congress would require changes which the practical politicians don't seem ready to accept.

One of the dominant proposals has been to abolish the seniority system of advancement in the Senate and the House. Under the present system, a member can aspire to becoming a committee chairman or at least chairman of a major subcommittee simply by getting re-elected often enough.

Much of the clamor for a change — to rotate chairmanships or provide for election of chairmen in party caucuses — has come from members fairly well down on the seniority list. Most senior members want no change that might keep them from getting to the top or might curb their tenure once they got there. It's these older and well-established members who usually call the shots in Congress.

Republicans, as well as non-partisan students, have advocated stronger staffing for minority members of committees. If the joint committee should adopt this proposal, Congress might go along with it. It would provide more appointive, highly paid jobs.

Congress also might go along with recommendations to provide additional staffing for individual members. This, too, would provide some more good jobs and could result in more efficient service for constituents.

The Joint Committee on Congressional Reorganization was created to see what it could do about complaints that the congressional machinery was too antiquated and needed overhauling.

Not since 1946 has there been a congressional reorganization act. A joint committee that year made almost 40 recommendations, many of which were ignored.

Congress did approve 1946 recommendations raising its pay and making members eligible for pensions.

The 1946 act called for a reduction in the number of standing committees, but the cut was more than offset by the birth of scores of special and subcommittees.

Opponents of any major changes in the congressional machinery have a strong argument going for them. The 1965 session, operating under the 1946 framework, set a record for legislative accomplishment. Its leaders aren't too enthusiastic about tinkering with the machinery.

James Marlow is on vacation.

Is Curve Grading Unfair?

By Susan Light
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NOTE: "Grading on the curve" implies that some students will get A, an equal number F, and the remainder in between, regardless of what their grades may be percentage-wise.

Susan Light

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: My son is a junior in high school, and thus far his grades have been good. We are hoping to send him to his dad's alma mater, which accepts only students in the top half of the class. This year he has run into a snag in English. His teacher grades tests "on the curve," he says, lumping all five of the junior English classes together. On this basis he usually gets a C, even though he has one of the top scores in his own class.

Is this fair? If not, what can be done about it? He's always made Bs before.—ANXIOUS MOTHER

ANSWER: Unfortunately, there is no perfect method of grading. What is fair in one situation may be grossly unfair in another.

Some educators say that children should be graded against themselves instead of being compared with other students. But for all practical purposes, such as passing or failing, college entrances, and the like, there must be some norms and standards.

In your son's case, I believe that grading on the curve may be a way of compensating for ability groupings in English. The five classes you mention may be rated from high to low ability-wise. If your son is in the middle group, a high score in his class might well be only a C in the over-all picture.

Actually, since class rank so often determines college entrance, grading on a curve that includes all sections may be the fairest method in many high schools. If each class section had its own curve, and your son received an A for the same score that merited only a C for a student in the highest group, this would be unfair.

The biggest weakness of curve grading is the supposition that a certain percentage of students must flunk. Why? It is conceivable that among 150 students, or even more, none would fail on a strict percentage basis. This is especially true in colleges that have only the cream of the scholastic crop to begin with.

Grading on the curve, of course, gives students protection against poor teaching and or an exam that's too tough. But, in my opinion, it should always be used with discretion, and failures should be open to review.

Secret Service Men Follow Lynda Bird, Boy Friend On Skis

PARK CITY, Utah (AP)—Miss Lynda Bird Johnson breezed through this old mining town turned ski resort this week followed by other skiers, Secret Service agents, and a 25-year-old medical student.

She didn't ski much, but when she did Brent Eastman showed her a little about the sport on a beginner's slope.

She and her college roommate, Warrie Lynn Smith, have been staying with Eastman's parents in Evanston, Wyo., 65 miles northeast of Park City.

Eastman, a senior at the University of California Medical School, is the Snake River boat guide Miss Johnson met last summer.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Remove Irritations To Check Mouth Lesions

By William Lawrence, D.D.S.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Smoker's patch is most often found in the wisdom tooth area, or under the tongue, and on the cheeks and palate. It's a benign lesion and usually reversible, e.g. when it's actually caused by too much, or excessive drinking, cheek biting, rough fillings, poor fitting dentures and other irritations in the mouth, removing the irritating factor will cure the lesion.

It's the first phase of a group of lesions called keratosis and usually appear as greyish white, smoky looking areas that are flat and smooth, but sometimes present a rough, irregular, warty-like surface. They don't hurt and most patients are unaware of their existence. They are usually discovered on routine examination.

Only when underlying tissue becomes involved, showing changes in cell structure, shape and growth, are they considered to be "pre-cancerous." Then they're called leukoplakia or dyskeratosis, or cancer-in-situ; finally, frankly invasive carcinoma. This is the sequence of changes that takes place, according to some investigators.

What is the "triggering mechanism" that causes a simple benign lesion to become cancerous? There's no answer to that. Nor is it known when it takes place. It's difficult even for an expert clinician to make a clear cut diagnosis. The distinction must be made by an experienced pathologist, microscopically examining a section of tissue cut out of the involved area (biopsy).

Large lesions often require multiple biopsies to be sure all areas are studied, and sometimes biopsies are taken at intervals to see if changes have occurred. Fortunately, cancer cells stain differently than normal cells, clearly outlining affected cells and layers of tissue.

There are simple tests now available that are excellent diagnostic aids in finding out if cancer is present:

Pap Test. Surface of lesion is scraped and cells so obtained are stained and examined microscopically.

Toluidine Blue Test. Blue stain is painted on lesion, then washed off. If stain doesn't completely wash off, cancer cells are present.

If either of these tests are positive, then a biopsy must be taken to prove the diagnosis.

How is this precancerous lesion treated? It depends mostly on size and location. Generally if a small area is involved, treatment is by excision biopsy—cut it right out. If the lesion covers a large area, other surgical or electro-surgical procedures are necessary.

The teacher was telling the youngsters about the bear and displayed a picture of a bear.

"I know about another kind of bear," said one of the little boys.

"You do," the teacher said, "What kind do you know about?"

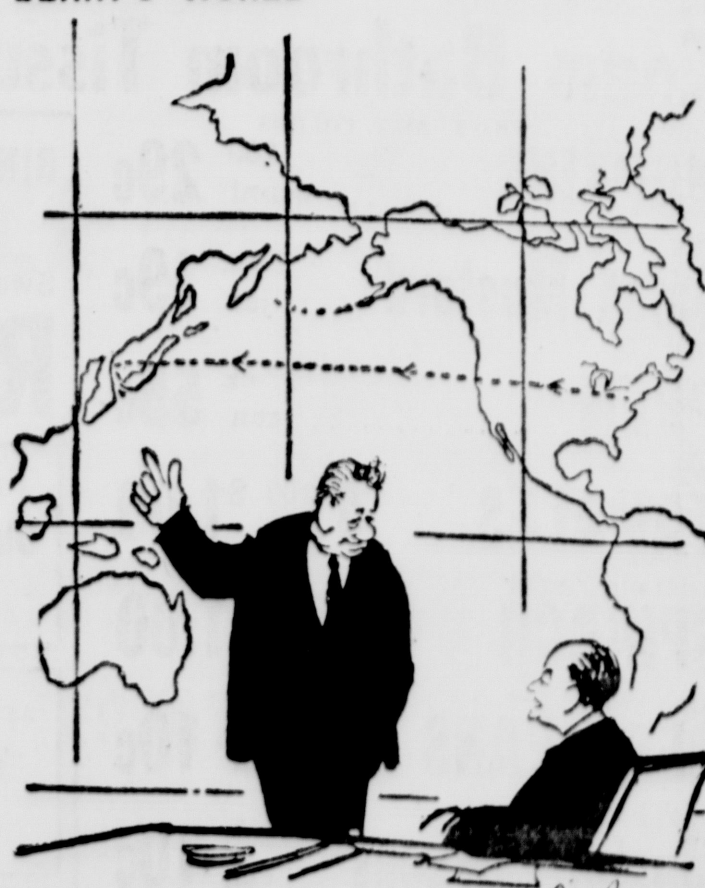

And she was a little by surprise when the youngster replied: "Bayer Aspirin." H. L.

Freezing Foods

Soups — Vegetable, split pea, navy bean, black bean and chicken noodle soup freeze well. To save storage space, freeze soup concentrated rather than the soup itself. When you add the frozen soup concentrate to the heated liquid at the time of reheating you might like to pour the soup between the grid in ice cube trays. Cover the tray and freeze then remove the tray releasing the lever and put the frozen blocks of soup in a plastic bag and freeze. Then add one block for each serving needed. Soup that has curdled can usually be smoothed by beating.

Meat Stock — Because meat bones are likely to break the wrapping and take up valuable locker space, it is better to bone meat before you freeze it. Use the leftover bone with bits of meat clinging to them, some with marrow in the center to make soup stock. Crack the bones and add cold water, simmer for two or three hours. If you use a pressure cooker the bones may be cooked for a shorter time and more calcium will be extracted from them and soup will be more concentrated. Meat stocks are often frozen in ice cube trays.

Sweet Potatoes — Choose medium to large mature sweet potatoes that have been cured. Wash, cook until almost tender, peel and cut in halves, slice or mash. If desired, to prevent whole or sliced sweet potatoes from darkening, dip in a solution containing one tablespoon citric acid or 1/2 cup lemon juice to one quart of water for four seconds.

To keep mashed sweet potatoes from darkening, mix two tablespoons orange or lemon juice with each quart of mashed sweet potatoes.

Pack sweet potatoes into containers, leaving 1/2 inch head space. Seal, label and freeze.

For variety: Roll cooked sweet potato slices in lemon juice and sugar. Pack into containers, leaving 1/2 inch head space. Seal, label and freeze.

French Fried Potatoes — To freeze, prepare potato strips according to directions for French fried potatoes. Parfry according to directions for first stage of two-stage method.

Cool parfried strips to room temperature. Pack cooled strips in cartons or other containers of moisture and vapor resistant materials. Seal, label and date.

Freeze and store at 0 degrees. Frozen parfried potato strips will maintain their quality for three or four months.

To brown for serving, frozen parfried strips may be thawed, then browned in fat. Or they may be left unthawed and browned in an oven or broiler. Parfried strips browned in the oven or broiler are less tender and less oily than those that are browned in fat.

To brown in fat, leave frozen strips in package to thaw. Thaw at room temperature for two to three hours.

Remove strips from container. Pat them lightly with towels to remove condensed moisture. Be sure all strips are at room temperature before they are put in to hot fat. Otherwise they will cause the temperature of the fat to drop too low for quick browning.

Brown as directed for second stage of two-stage method of French frying.

To brown in oven, brown unthawed parfried strips for ten minutes in an extremely hot oven (500 degrees), turning strips as needed, or for five minutes in an oven 500 degrees followed by three minutes in a broiler.

Nuts—Package nut meats in any good freezer packaging material—plastic bag, glass or tin container with tight lids or other moisture-resistant airtight container. At 0 degrees they will stay in good condition for a year or longer.

Fruit Sauces—Apple, rhubarb, peach and apricot sauces are especially successful when frozen. Use your favorite recipe and make as for fresh use. It is well to omit any spices until serving time. Chill and then package the sweetened cooked sauce in suitable containers. Remove air bubbles, seal and place in freezer.

Purees—Some fruits and most berries can be pureed without any cooking. But some persons prefer to add 1/4 cup sugar to each quart and heat them enough to melt the sugar. The light colored fruits such as peaches and apricots need to be heated to prevent darkening of the fruit. Heat only to boiling point and use only enough water to keep from scorching. Cool quickly and put through a sieve, mill or strainer to give a fine, even puree. Adding ascorbic acid (1/2 teaspoon per quart) will help hold a bright color. When cold, package, label and freeze.

Purees for infants and others on low-residue diets may be prepared and frozen when the fruits or vegetables are in season and their quality is best.

Fruit Cake in the Freezer—Fruit cakes are particularly successful for freezing as the flavor of any cake heavy with fruits become blended and mellow during storage and the cake stays moist because of the fruit and fat present. Too, fruit cakes are rather compact and sturdy so are not likely to be mashed or dented during freezer storage.

Butter — Butter made from pasteurized sweet cream stores better than butter made from pasteurized sour cream. Butter made from pasteurized sweet cream will keep satisfactorily for six months when stored at 0 degree. Homemade butter made from unpasteurized sour cream will probably have an undesirable flavor after a few weeks and should not be stored. Package butter like meats are to be packaged. To store commercial butter, simply remove the cartons, then package, and place back in the carton.

Hard and Semi-Hard Cheese—Cottage cheese loses quality when frozen due to changes in texture.

Cheddar, Swiss, Edam, Gouda and Brick cheese show little

Youth Wins Contests In Fiddling

NEVADA Mo. (AP) — Around here they call Kelly Jones an old fiddler. It's not his age, 18, they refer to. It's what and how he plays.

Kelly is the son and grandson of fiddlers. He has been playing only 3 1/2 years, but this year he's won two contests. They were a state fiddling contest at Nixa, Mo., and a county fair contest in Deepwater, Mo.

Old-time fiddle playing is an art, to his way of thinking. He's afraid it is dying out.

Kelly knows more than 100 original square - dance tunes. These are his favorites for playing because "that's what the fiddle was made for to start with."

Some of his exhibition numbers are "Orange Blossom Special" and "Draggin' a bow." The difference between violin and fiddle, Kelly says, is "all in how its played. Violin players read music. Fiddlin' is all by ear. Each fiddle player has his own style."

Kelly says it is impossible to duplicate another fiddler's sound. He tries to practice every day. "If I don't, I can tell it."

The young old fiddler's favorite fiddler has no maker's name on it. "You should use the fiddler that suits you best," he says. "This one suits me."

change in texture if properly frozen and slowly thawed. They may be frozen in the package they are purchased in but over-wrap in good freezer packaging material. The cheese may show a mottled color when thawing but this will disappear. Soft cheeses as Leidenkranz, Limburger, Camembert do not freeze well. Bleu cheese and Roquefort have a soapy taste after freezing and become quite crumbly.

Demands Cause Cities Service Co. To Expand

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Demands for natural gas in central and eastern Kansas and western Missouri has prompted Cities Service Gas Co. to build facilities in Kansas at a cost of more than $25 million.

The firm's president, Kirby Crenshaw, said Tuesday the new facilities would enable the company to increase its gas purchases from the Kansas Hugoton area by 100 million cubic feet daily.

Within the next two weeks, an application will be filed with the Federal Power Commission requesting authorization to install the facilities.

The two-year program — expected to begin in 1967—will include more than 200 miles of new pipeline and addition of 18,000 horsepower to the company's compression facilities in the area.

Unbeaten Team Takes Loss

'Commodore Killer' Role Is Assumed By Tall Cage

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Until the semifinal round of the Los Angeles Basketball Classic, John Block's primary distinction was that he was the tallest starter Coach Forrest Twogood ever had in his 16 years at Southern California.

Now he can boast of being a Commodore Killer.

Block's two free throws with four seconds to play gave Southern California a 74-72 victory over Vanderbilt Wednesday night and knocked the Commodores, the nation's second-ranked team, from the list of unbeaten.

The free throws, however, were only the final act in Block's performance. He scored 32 points in all, six more than Vanderbilt ace Clyde Lee. Lee poured in 39 the night before.

Included in the total for the 6-foot-9 Block was a field goal that tied the game 72-72 with 2:21 remaining.

The victory put Southern California into tonight's final against archrival UCLA, which defeated Purdue 82-70.

The Los Angeles Classic is only one of many tournament titles that will be decided tonight.

Three of the bigger ones are the Holiday Festival at New York — Providence vs. Boston College; the Quaker City at Philadelphia — St. Joseph's vs. Temple; and the All-College at Oklahoma City, Okla. — Oklahoma City vs. Virginia Tech.

St. Joseph's, the nation's eighth-ranked team, rolled into the Quaker final by crushing ninth-ranked Minnesota 91-66 behind the clutch scoring of Billy Oakes. Minnesota hit only 14 per cent of its shots in the first half.

Temple downed LaSalle 66-59 in overtime, clinching the victory with six straight free throws.

Oklahoma City stormed past Rhode Island 101-89 as Jerry Wells and Gary Gray combined for 55 points. Then Virginia Tech edged top-seeded Wichita State 91-90 on John Wetzel's two free throws with 10 seconds left.

Among the tournaments that ended, titles were won by Princeton, New Mexico, Columbia and Evansville.

John Harlow and Gary Walters sparked Princeton to a 62-47 triumph over Navy in the Charlotte Invitational while Mel Daniels scored 27 points in New Mexico's 99-81 victory over Idaho in the Lobo Invitational.

Columbia rolled past Brown 83-63 in the Kodak Classic at Rochester, N.Y., behind the scoring of 7-foot-1 Dave Newmark and Stan Felsing.

Evansville, the nation's No. 1 small-college team, won its own tournament by nipping Marquette 88-86 on Sam Watkins' jump shot with two seconds left.

In games for third place in those tournaments, Davidson defeated Mississippi State 72-60, Tulane edged Texas Christian 82-80, Pitt stopped Rochester 69-

65 in overtime and Kent State nipped Yale 77-75.

Nebraska made it to the finals of the Big Eight tournament for the first time in the 20-year history, defeating Oklahoma 92-79 behind the combined 52-point performance by Nate Branch and Grant Simmons.

The Cornhuskers meet Kansas for the title tonight following the Jayhawkers' 73-66 decision over Iowa State.

Oregon State and Stanford will clash for the Far West Classic title. Oregon State upset Arizona State 56-46 and Stanford stopped Utah State 93-79.

Fourth-ranked Iowa moved into the finals of the Sun Carnival at El Paso, Tex., against Texas Western by edging Arkansas 77-75 on Jerry Jones' tip in with one second to play. Texas Western clubbed Loyola of New Orleans 93-56.

Unbeaten Dayton ran its streak to eight straight, stopping previously undefeated Auburn 85-71, and will play in the Sugar Bowl final against Maryland, which trimmed Houston 69-63 on Neil Brayton's jump shot with 17 seconds left.

Carver Clinton, the first Negro to play in the Gator Bowl, sparked Penn State to a 68-66 triumph over Alabama. The Lions will meet Florida, which upset DePaul 72-64.

In tournament consolation games involving members of the Top Ten, sixth-ranked Brig-

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—Golfers Ken Venturi filed a $16,000 suit against Security Benefit Life Insurance Co. today.

In an action brought in Superior Court in this San Francisco Peninsula city, Venturi charged that the firm had refused to pay the bills for a year-long disability resulting from a nerve injury to his hands and wrists.

The suit said Venturi's insurance policy was issued in February 1962 and still active at the time of the injury, October 1964.

Bad News For Browns From Starr

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Bart Starr expects to play Sunday and that is bad news for the Cleveland Browns. It isn't official yet, but Titletown, U.S.A., is bursting with optimism about its hometown Packers with its No. 1 quarterback back at the helm.

Starr tuned up Wednesday for the first time since Sunday's injury and found he could throw the ball. His damaged back is not entirely healthy, but it is beginning to come around.

"I plan on playing," said Starr in the clubhouse after the Packers resumed work for the National Football League championship game following a two-day vacation.

"I am not planning on sitting down," he said. He sounded as though he meant it.

Although Zeke Bratkowski, his understudy, did a fine job Sunday after Starr was hurt on the first play of the playoff game with Baltimore, the Packers are a more cohesive unit with No. 15 at the controls.

"Bart didn't throw well, but he did throw," commented Coach Vince Lombardi. "He should get a little better every day because he is a fast healer. I still don't know what to say about Sunday."

The Packers feel Starr's pinpoint passing will be more effective against the defending champions' deep defense than Zeke's bombs.

Cleveland definitely is vulnerable to the pass. The Browns have given up 43 touchdowns, 12 on running plays and 31 on passes. In contrast, Green Bay has been scored on 22 times, 11 by runs and 11 by passes.

Although the most recent weather forecast calls for mild temperatures — and possible showers or flurries during the week, these are an ominous threat of rain or snow for Sunday.

The field, recovered with hay immediately after the Baltimore game, is in prime condition. Of course, it'll have to take what comes when the cover is taken off Sunday morning.

Paul Hornung ran with his old spirit in Wednesday's workout although he confined himself with straightaway dashes with no cuts. He still is nursing a bruised right leg.

Jim Taylor came up with a muscle pull that nobody knew he had, but Lombardi is confident it will work itself out before game time.

Green Bay's running attack has been sub-par all season. The Packers ranked 10th in the league in rushing with 1,488 yards to Cleveland's leading total of 2,331. Jim Brown, of course, is the chief contributor to the Browns' total with 1,544 on his own, or more than the entire Packer running game.

S-C Tigers Lose Tourney Opener

The Smith-Cotton Tigers, defending champions in the Marshall Christmas Tournament, were pushed into the losers bracket by the tough and alert Marshall Owls in the final seconds of the opening round contest Wednesday night. Marshall won the game 48-45, while earlier Booneville ousted Slater 59-52 to get into the championship bracket.

The loss Wednesday places the Tigers against Slater in the first game of the final night in the two-day tournament. The game will be for consolation honors.

The Bengals outshot Marshall from the field by a mere goal, but Marshall technically won the game on free throws, outdoing the Tigers by four in that department.

Smith-Cotton started the game off well enough by taking a six-point lead in the first quarter, but Marshall gave early indication that the game was far from won by dumping in 15 points in the second while holding Smith-Cotton to eight. That shifted the lead to the Marshall side of the ledger by a point.

At the end of the third quarter, the two teams had fought to a 33-all deadlock and the battle began to take some meaning for both teams. The Tigers managed to get another lead, a two pointer, with two minutes left in the game. When that had dwindled down to about 70 seconds, the Owls, up to then matching S-C basket for basket, hit from the field and qualified for a free throw, which was good—giving them the final three-point margin to win the game.

James Whitney again paced the Tiger attack with six field goals and two free throws for 14 points, but Marshall's Dave Walling took game scoring honors with seven from the field and three from the free throw line for 17, followed closely by John O'Dell. The game left the Tigers with a 4-5 record for the season.

Sparkling Weekend Schedule

By BOB GREEN

The national championship, the country's longest winning string and enormous amounts of prestige go on the line this weekend in college football's annual wind-up extravaganza—the major bowl games.

The television line-up is such that armchair quarterbacks can watch at least portions of all four of the big ones New Year's Day — the Rose, Cotton, Sugar and Orange.

It starts at 2 p.m., EST, and goes continuously until about 10 p.m.

And if that isn't enough, viewers can start working on their red eyes New Year's Eve with the Gator Bowl and the East-West All-Star game. The Sun Bowl, also scheduled New Year's Eve, is not televised nationally.

Most of the top-ranked teams — Michigan State, Arkansas, Nebraska and Alabama are in action and the national championship will be determined by a poll following the games.

Here's the line-up, all times Eastern Standard:

Dec. 31
Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. — Georgia Tech, 6-3-1, vs. Texas Tech, 8-2, 2 p.m.
Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. — Texas Western, 7-3, vs. Texas Christian, 6-4, 4 p.m.
East-West All-Star at San Francisco — 4:45 p.m.

Jan. 1
Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. — Michigan State, 10-0, vs. UCLA, 7-2-1, 5 p.m.
Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex. — Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 7-3, 2 p.m.

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La. — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 7-3, 2 p.m.
Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. — Nebraska, 10-0, vs. Alabama, 8-1-1, 8 p.m.

The television line-up has ABC showing the Gator Bowl and NBC the East-West game Friday. Saturday, NBC starts with the Sugar Bowl, follows that with the Rose Bowl and then comes through with the Orange Bowl battle.

A good portion of the action, however, will take place after the games and off the TV screens. That involves the check-book battle for some of the top stars.

For example, some pro football men have said the bidding for Donny Anderson, two-time All-America back for Texas Tech, may go as high as $800,000 after he and his Texas Tech teammates complete their Gator Bowl appearance. He has been drafted by Green Bay of the National Football League and Houston of the American Football League.

Two of the three unbeaten teams in action, Michigan State and Arkansas, are solid favorites. But the third, Nebraska, is an underdog to Alabama. Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska all are 10-0, with Arkansas boasting a string of 22 in a row.

In Las Vegas, where bookmaking is legal, Arkansas has been made a 10-point favorite over LSU in the Cotton Bowl. Michigan State is favored by 14 over UCLA in the Rose Bowl. Alabama by two over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl and Missouri by 2½ over Florida in the Sugar Bowl.

Will Meet Nebraska

Kansas Enters Tourney Finals

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Deliberate, methodical Kansas, with tall Walt Wesley, is paired against Nebraska's quick, run-and-gun club in the finals of the 20th Big Eight holiday basketball tourney tonight, just as the form chart predicted.

"This is like a dream," said Joe Cipriano, the young Nebraska coach who led the Huskers to the finals for the first time in tourney history with a 92-79 romp over Oklahoma in the semifinals Wednesday night.

Kansas had to fight all the way before beating surprising Iowa State 73-66 in the other semifinal. It was much closer than the score shows, Kansas, the tourney favorite, has an 8-2 record, Nebraska 8-1.

"It will be a real test for us because we're two opposite types of teams," said Ted Owens, Kansas coach. "Nebraska is so quick and active in its fast break — but what will they do about Wesley?"

The 6-foot-11 Wesley was outscored 21-20 and out-rebounded 12-9 by Iowa State's Don Smith, a talented 6-foot-8, 220-pound sophomore. But the tough, clinging man-for-man Kansas defense and the cool clutch shooting of little Kansas backliner Delvy Lewis made the difference.

The Kansas defense and Iowa State's inexperience led to 18 cyclone errors, while Kansas made only five errors that lost possession.

Lewis scored 17 points, six in the final minute, including 4-for-4 at the foul line, while Iowa State missed two layups and four foul shots in the last two minutes.

Would Revise CCC Credit, Debit Plans

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The president of Great Plains Wheat, Inc., Howard W. Hardy, today called for revision of the present credit and debit procedure in use by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Hardy outlined his views in a letter to John Schnitker, under-secretary of agriculture.

He urged prompt action on the problem of damaged grain finding its way into CCC stocks because of accumulated credits and debits between country receivers and the CCC.

The problem arises when country receivers are forced to ship lower quality wheat than specified to CCC in order to recover credits, Hardy said.

CCC should reconsider the policy of making a cash settlement for accrued credits the same as the country receiver is now required to pay for any debit which may be contracted, he said.

The present procedure for recovering credits by the country receiver has aggravated the problem rather than solved it, he said.

Hardy said the credit-debit situation tends to encourage the shipment of lesser quality wheat CCC stocks and he expressed concern about the effect the situation may have on future grain sales, particularly to commercial markets.

In his letter, Hardy said exporters, for the most part, must rely on CCC stocks to supply foreign buyers.

The market development association president said that "continuing the current policy could jeopardize the opportunity currently offered to the U.S. wheat industry to demonstrate, to the commercial markets around the world, that U.S. wheat can compete both in quality and price."

"However, a change in the credit-debit procedure would further enhance the quality of CCC stocks, thus improving our competitive position in commercial markets," he said.

Approve Projects For Missourians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved four projects for training of 140 unemployed or under-employed Missourians.

Training under the Manpower Development and Training Act will be given at St. Joseph, Higginsville and St. Louis.

At St. Joseph, a 24-week course will be given 30 trainees as combination welders. At Higginsville, training as farm equipment mechanics will be offered 20 persons.

Two projects are at St. Louis where 50 trainees will be given 21 weeks of training as general office clerks and 40 will spend 33 weeks learning to be dry cleaning pressers and spotters.

Referral to the training is made through the Missouri State Employment Service.

Increase Contracts From the Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — A St. Louis firm received a $2,535,000 increase of their existing contract from the Air Force, Missouri senators were told Wednesday.

The increase boosts Emerson Electric's total contract to $3,435,000. The work is being done in St. Louis.

The company will build automatic test equipment for F-105 aircraft and Minuteman missile systems.

The Air Force is also awarding Libby Welding of Kansas City, Mo., a $2,197,183 contract for 10 kilowatt generator sets with spare parts and related equipment.

Higher Cost Of Living Lies Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of living is higher now for most American families than ever before. Most base their planning on the likelihood it will go still higher.

This is the simple arithmetic of family budgets. The variations in the government's monthly Consumer Price Index seem to make little difference. Nor is the current battle over the need to ward off further monetary inflation likely to mean much to most families.

What does matter is the monthly bills. And, for one reason or another, they tend to be higher.

The government's Consumer Price Index, nicknamed the cost of living index, marks the average across the country of the cost of goods and services the typical family is presumed to buy.

Some prices are fairly stable across the land, but others vary from region to region, city to city. Transportation costs, rents, even interest charges on mortgages vary, for example. And so the government index for your region may be higher or lower than the average for the nation as a whole.

Prices of a few basic items are lower now than a few years back. Then why does the family outlay always seem to climb a bit year after year?

One reason is the demand of the family itself for more expensive goods. It doesn't settle today for the quality it accepted in yesteryears. It is living higher on the hog.

The family demands, and gets, improved products. Producing these improvements may have added to the store price. Most families wouldn't go back to wood burning kitchen stoves and root cellars even if they could save money by giving up electric or gas stoves and freezers.

Families also pay more now for conveniences once unavailable — whether it be sliced bread, or seafood flown in from the coasts, or vegetables frozen after cleaning and often after cooking.

Drake University Gets New President

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, a native Missourian, resigned Wednesday to become president of Drake University at Des Moines, Iowa.

Dr. Paul F. Sharp, born in Kirksville, Mo., in 1918, was president of Hiram College in Ohio from 1957 to September 1964, when he became chancellor at North Carolina.

The UNC board of trustees executive committee, meeting in the governor's mansion in Raleigh, accepted the resignation, effective Feb. 15.

'Scrounging' Of Arms At Rapid Pace

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — If you know the right guy and you're both fighting on the same side, a new American M60 machine gun can cost as little as a fifth of whisky.

Some American officers with a touch of nonconformity may trade off the heavier M14 rifle for a carbine in some Vietnamese unit.

Some American battalion commanders find the 81mm mortar too heavy for quick movement through the jungle. Never mind, the government unit down the road has some 60mm they are willing to trade.

The trading and scrounging of weapons and equipment run at a brisk pace in many places where both American and Vietnamese units are stationed. Strictly unorthodox mixes of weapons which provide an ammunition problem. But usually not for long.

The Army captain with a Swedish K submachine gun picked up in a trade with an American advisor to a Vietnamese unit knows that more 9mm ammunition is available if he can get some spare radio batteries to unit X. No American weapons use 9mm ammunition.

All such trades are officially frowned upon and regulations prohibiting it flourish. But GI individuality is not so easily stamped out.

Often the trades fill what commanders feel are urgent needs.

Take the example of a senior American advisor to a Vietnamese ranger battalion. The rangers are supposed to be raiders so they are lightly armed. But they are used as conventional battalions, and this has led to past disasters because they lacked enough machine guns and mortars.

One day a new American M60 machine gun appeared in the battalion's armament. Where did it come from?

"Oh, I got it from one of the guys in the Army for a bottle of whisky. Actually when he heard the problem, the bottle wasn't really necessary."

Only Woman Minister Is Retiring

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — The world's only woman foreign minister, Golda Meir of Israel, is retiring at 67 after 10 years in office.

Mrs. Meir told a meeting of Parliament's Foreign Affairs and Security Committee Tuesday that she is quitting.

Authoritative sources said she would be succeeded by Deputy Premier Abba Eban, former ambassador to the United States and to the United Nations.

Mrs. Meir was appointed foreign minister in June 1956, capping a career that took her from a Milwaukee schoolroom to the major capitals of the world.

Born in Kiev, Russia, on May 3, 1898, she fled with her carpenter father and the rest of the family to the United States when she was 8. She attended primary and high schools in Milwaukee, Wis., and became a grade school teacher there. She also did library work in Milwaukee, Chicago and New York.

Taking an active interest in Zionism and socialism, she went to Palestine in 1921 with her husband, Morris Myerson. Then 23, she worked in a kibbutz (farm cooperative), helping raise poultry by day and studying Hebrew and Arabic by night.

Her talent for organization came quickly to the fore, and she became active in Histadrut, the general federation of Jewish labor. She expanded it from a trade union into an all-around enterprise that now dominates Israeli industry and commerce.

When the country she helped found became independent in 1948, she became its first minister to the Soviet Union.

The next year she became Israel's minister of labor, holding the post for seven years. In 1953, she was also Israel's chief delegate to the United Nations. Named foreign minister in 1956, she changed her name to the Hebrew Meir, meaning "gives light."

Illinois Takes Top Cage Crown

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP) — Illinois State won the Midwest Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament Wednesday night, defeating Pittsburg State of Kansas in the championship game 77-77.

A 20-foot jump shot by George Terry with five seconds remaining was the clincher.

In other games Rockhurst defeated Fort Hays State 74-73 for third place; St. Benedict's beat Washburn 84-74 for fifth place and Emporia State took seventh place with an 80-69 decision over Omaha.

Jim Chroust of Pittsburg took scoring honors in the championship game with 33 points before fouling out with two minutes left. Duane Bruninga led Illinois State with 22 points and Terry added 19.

With 1:15 left in the game, Pittsburg held a 5-point lead but Terry connected on a jumper and Don Feek tipped in a missed free throw to bring Illinois State to within a single point, 77-76.

Pittsburg's Don Meadows was called for charging with only 19 seconds remaining and this gave Illinois the ball and Terry the chance for the winning basket.

Rockhurst overcame four tie scores in the final six minutes to defeat Fort Hays for third place. Al Payne of Rockhurst clinched it with two free tosses in the last five seconds. Bill Strait of Hays was high scorer with 20 points. Payne had 18.

St. Benedict's moved to a 10-point lead over Washburn about

Name Governors For Kansas City Bank

The board also reappointed Dolph Simons, Lawrence, Kan., as deputy chairman and re-named Dean A. McGee, Oklahoma City, Okla., to a three-year term as a director.

New directors named to branch boards were Cris Dobbins, Denver and C. W. Flint Jr., Tulsa, Okla.

John T. Harris, McCook, Neb., was named to a third two-year term on the Omaha branch board.

eight minutes into the second half and remained in front. Vince De Greeff's 22 points led top-seeded St. Benedict's. Ron Ford of Washburn, the tourney's leading scorer coming into the final round, scored 19 points and team-mate Sam Shipstead 21.

SHORT RIBS BY FRANK O'NEAL

IM SORRY YOU DIDN'T LIKE THE JAZZ MUSIC I PLAYED.

THAT'S OKAY, I GUESS IM SORT OF SQUARE.

BOY, YOU CAN SAY THAT AGAIN!

HOMIE, AT LAST.

ALLEY OOP BY V. T. HAMLIN

NUTHIN' CAN GET AT ANYBODY INSIDE THIS FORTIFIED FIELD THING Y'GOT HERE?

NOTHING, DOC NOR OSCAR HAD A GADGET LIKE THIS!

FUNNY NEITHER, DOC NOR OSCAR HAD A GADGET LIKE THIS!

OH, THEY PROBABLY KNOW OF IT ALL RIGHT...

BUT IT'S PRACTICAL APPLICATION DIDN'T COME ALONG UNTIL WELL INTO THE 21ST CENTURY.

WHAT CENTURY ARE YOU FROM?

THE TWENTY-SECOND! THE YEAR IS TWENTY-ONE-SIXTY-SIX!

OH

MORTY MEEKLE BY DICK CAVALLI

IS THAT YOU, WINTHROP?

IT'S ALMOST TIME FOR SUPPER, DEAR—GO AND WASH YOUR HANDS.

I'LL NEVER GET AWAY WITH IT, BUT IT'S WORTH A TRY.

WHAT WAS IT YOU WANTED TO SEE ME ABOUT, OLD FRIEND?

CAPTAIN EAST BY LESLIE TURNER

WONDER HOW LONG Y'UNK HAD BEEN HIDING HERE WHEN THE NATIVE FOUND HIM ASLEEP?

SEVERAL DAYS, BUT HE'D KEPT OUT OF SIGHT USUALLY. THE RUNS HE HOLED UP IN WERE SELDOM VISITED.

IF YOU'D SEEN HIM FLEEING HALF-DRESSED FROM THAT MOB OF INFURIATED NUBIANS, I DOUBT IF YOU'D HAVE EXPECTED HIM TO RETURN!

HE HAD NO TIME TO GET THE BOX OF RARE GEMS HE'D STOLEN IN CHIRO... AND HAD PROBABLY HIDDEN NEARBY!

THEN WHY HADN'T HE COME BACK FOR THEM LONG AGO... BEFORE THE VILLAGE WAS FLOODED?

HE'S BEEN IN PRISON SIX YEARS... BUT ESCAPED LAST WEEK, THEN HEADED THIS WAY.

'Wyatt Earp' Looks Back On TV Role

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hugh O'Brian as "Wyatt Earp" was a fast gun and a high Neilsen for six years in television's Old West.

O'Brian and the series quit while they were ahead and the actor, now only an occasional visitor in the nation's living rooms, looks back on the experience with mixed emotions.

"Television offers a young, unknown actor three things," he said. "Exposure to the public, money and aggravation."

His aggravation was real enough when the Western series went into syndicated reruns and he found, as others before him, that he was a victim of type-casting. Today he is more mellow, partly because he has finally succeeded in breaking the mold.

"Of course I'm eternally grateful to Wyatt," he said. "Before that I'd done some things, but mostly I played bad men. It doesn't upset me at all when the public thinks of me or recognizes me as that character. My problem was that producers of motion pictures think of me as a Western actor."

O'Brian, currently in New York rehearsing as host of NBC's Telephone Hour next Sunday, has found a niche in films. He recently returned from making an adventure movie in the Philippines and a mystery shot in Ireland will be seen in movie houses soon.

He said his long television experience had proved both helpful and a drawback.

"I learned to memorize quickly. And I learned to adjust fast to situations. But working at high speed and with a lot of lines I tended to go to the obvious in handling a situation. There was never time to really rehearse."

GOP Plans To Act On Four-Year Study Of Politics In City

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party is planning to act on a four-year-old study of big-city politics.

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced Tuesday that financial troubles had delayed implementation of the proposals in the report.

Among the report's recommendations was one that every major city have a fulltime chairman of executive director to oversee party organization.

Bliss also told a news conference that the national committee will provide assistance and manpower where it is needed to help revive GOP city organizations, work with minority groups and aid in research and public relations.

Rod Steiger At Peak Of Long Career

By ROB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sometimes it pays to get out of town. Case in point: Rod Steiger, who stands at the peak of his 14-year film career though he hasn't made a film in a Hollywood studio for half that time.

Steiger owns a house at Malibu but seldom sees it. He makes pictures all over the map. Among his recent ones: "Doctor Zhivago," filmed in Spain; "A Time of Indifference," "Hands on the City" and "And a Man Came," based on the life of the late Pope John, all in Italy. "I made 'The Loved One' here, but not in a studio," said Steiger, spitting a hair. He played Joy Boy in the neorealist comedy which filmed entirely on locations.

Steiger also made "The Pawnbroker" in New York, and that has provided the principal thrust to his career. He won best-actor honors at the Berlin film festival and is likely to be in Academy contention.

"The Pawnbroker" has prompted Hollywood producers to view Steiger in a new light: as a starring lead, not just a character actor.

"That's very pleasing," he admitted. "But even more pleasing is the fact that we did a picture like 'The Pawnbroker,' after all the wise guys in the industry said it was impossible."

Such was Steiger's belief in the film that he performed at far less than his usual fee: $25,000 plus 2 per cent of the take.

"But you have to make concessions now and then, to get what you want," he explained. "In 14 years of films, I have always progressed, even though I've done bad pictures. It was always with a purpose."

'Gob Piles' A Threat In W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — New England had its power failure, Florida and Louisiana have hurricanes, and California has forest fires and mud slides. But West Virginia has the most gob piles.

In fact, what well may be the world's largest gob pile is located at Quinwood, in the southeastern section of the state near the Virginia border. It is two miles long, tall as a five-story building, 100 feet wide—and has been burning for half a century.

What are gob piles? According to Gov. Hulett C. Smith, they are "miserable mounds of smoldering fumes that smell like Hades."

Gob piles are coal mine refuse banks and West Virginia has more than 500 within its borders. About half are burning. The others could ignite at any time.

This situation is a source of irritation to the state officials whose job it is to keep the piles in check. The coal refuse banks, many of which have been burning for 50 years, contribute to West Virginia's air pollution problems, mar the scenery and kill nearby vegetation.

"And there have been cases," says West Virginia Health Director N. H. Dyer, "where children playing on the crusts of the burning gobbs have fallen through into the fiery interior and were incinerated."

"From a pollution standpoint," he said, "gob piles don't constitute a major health hazard unless they're located near a community. But they're much more than just a nuisance."

One aspect of the battle is that they're nearly indestructible. These unwanted byproducts of the coal industry have increased in number and size during the years. The need for higher quality coal will mean new and larger gob piles.

"Gob piles usually are mixtures of many materials and elements," said Carl Beardn, chairman of the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission. "An average coal refuse bank is composed of broken timbers, rock, discarded machine parts, slag, grease-soaked rags and decaying matter."

Beardn says a mature gob pile produces sulphur dioxide, which kills vegetation; hydrogen sulphide, and carbon monoxide which occasionally kills people. He cites instances during recent winters where persons seeking the warmth of the gob pile have been asphyxiated.

The state requires all coal companies to post "no trespassing" signs around their gob piles. The companies also must register all banks on their property.

"Keeping people away from gob piles is one of our biggest problems," Beardn said. "Most piles are accidentally ignited by persons living in the area, although a few companies occasionally will ignite the banks deliberately in order to obtain 'red dog slag,' a residue which makes an excellent road base material."

While several companies have temporarily extinguished their banks by tightly compressing the waste material, there is no permanent method within the state's economic means.
